

A stylized illustration featuring a branch of a coffee plant with green leaves and several bright red coffee cherries. To the left of the branch, two individual coffee beans are shown, highlighting their characteristic shape and central groove. The illustration is set against a plain white background.

